

THE RESEARCH EXPERIENCES FOR TEACHERS (RET) IN BIG DATA PROGRAM

The Research Experiences for Teachers (RET) in Big Data Program is a 6-week summer program designed to keep STEM high school teachers involved on the cutting edge of engineering and computer science.

Sponsored by the National Science Foundation, teachers will work alongside graduate and doctoral students with the aim of sharing their findings and projects in their classrooms.

RET.UNLV.EDU

C++/Java/Python

LECTURES IN THESE PROGRAMMINGLANGUAGES

12

EXPECTED
GROUP SIZE OF 12 TEACHERS

$6,000

$1000 STIPENDS
AWARDED WEEKLY

SUPPORT

We will support three teachers with $1,200 per teacher to attend the annual conference of the National Science Teacher Association to present their results. The total travel award is $10,800.

SUBSISTENCE

Materials at $1,500 per participant.
Materials and supplies are needed for classroom implementation of modules and classroom support.

CONTACT

Program Director: Dr. Justin Zhan
702-895-2054 | justin.zhan@unlv.edu

UNLV
HOWARD R. HUGHES
College of ENGINEERING